OVERVIEW

The All-Ohio Institute is the creation of the Public Psychiatry Program at University Hospitals Case Medical Center and Case Western Reserve University School of Medicine. Designed as a multidisciplinary celebration of community mental health services, All-Ohio has attracted more than 400 psychiatrists, social workers, nurses and other mental health professionals, as well as consumers and family members, to each conference since 1995.

This year's conference will explore issues related to the workforce challenges facing us as professionals to meet the needs of mental health consumers and persons with substance use disorders who get their care in community settings. Special consideration will be paid to integrated care programs.

The institute also features workshops, showcase presentations and a poster session highlighting specific skills training while featuring the best of new programs, curricula and clinical practices from around the state.

EDUCATIONAL DESIGN AND METHODOLOGY

This program will use large and small group lectures, panel and participatory discussions, as well as a poster session to present materials. Unique clinical services, curricula and research in community mental health services from around the state will be showcased.

The commitment to exceptional patient care begins with revolutionary discovery. University Hospitals Case Medical Center is the primary affiliate of Case Western Reserve University School of Medicine, a national leader in medical research and education and consistently ranked among the top research medical schools in the country by U.S. News & World Report. Through their faculty appointments at Case Western Reserve University School of Medicine, physicians at UH Case Medical Center are advancing medical care through innovative research and discovery that bring the latest treatment options to patients.
