CRIMINAL PATROL SUCCESS

Cocaine

Southern California and South Texas are the primary entry points for cocaine, much of which is transported toward heavily populated cities in the eastern United States. Atlanta, in particular, has emerged over the past several years as a key wholesale cocaine distribution hub. Significant quantities of cocaine smuggled into California transit the Pacific Region for Canada. Colombian and Dominican TCOs still use maritime and commercial air conveyances to smuggle cocaine into New York City and Miami for distribution in some East Coast locales, but cocaine smuggled across the southwest border is increasingly being distributed in these markets.

Marijuana

Mexico-produced marijuana enters the country primarily in Arizona, California, and South Texas, while high-potency Canadian marijuana is usually smuggled through and between POEs in Washington, Michigan, New York, and Vermont. Both forms of marijuana are distributed nationally. Similarly, domestically produced marijuana is transported from grow sites to markets nationwide.

Ecstasy

Ecstasy is generally transported from POEs in Washington, Michigan, New York, and Vermont to markets throughout the United States.

Heroin

Mexican heroin enters the country primarily at crossing points in southern California, South Texas and, increasingly, Arizona. It is largely destined for western states, where it is preferred, but it is simultaneously being moved to eastern markets on a smaller but increasing scale. An increasing amount of South American heroin available in the United States is smuggled across the Southwest Border and subsequently shipped to East Coast markets, where it is sold along with South American heroin smuggled into Chicago, New York City, Miami, and other East Coast metropolitan areas by Colombian and Dominican TCOs.

Methamphetamine

Mexican traffickers supply drug markets in the western United States and, on a smaller but increasing scale, eastern drug markets with methamphetamine smuggled over the Southwest Border and with methamphetamine produced in California superlabs. Methamphetamine crossing the Southwest Border is primarily smuggled through California and South Texas POEs. Methamphetamine produced in small domestic laboratory operations is usually consumed locally.
