TIC TALK: Bringing Trauma Informed Care to Trauma-Exposed LGBTQ Youth
Goals

• Develop a basic understanding of Trauma Informed Care

• Learn the LGBTQ-specific and related traumas many LGBTQ youth face

• Learn how to better support and advocate with LGBTQ youth and educate others
Trauma Informed Care

“Trauma Informed Care is a strengths-based framework that is grounded in an understanding of and responsiveness to the impact of trauma, that emphasizes physical, psychological, and emotional safety for both providers and survivors, and that creates opportunities for survivors to rebuild a sense of control and empowerment.”

(Hopper et al., 2010)
Understanding how trauma affects the life of an individual

Goal of TIC: understand trauma survivors so that services and programs avoid re-traumatization
What Does LGBTQ Mean?

- LGBTQ: includes all individuals and communities who identify as lesbian, gay, bisexual, or transgender or those who are questioning their sexual orientation and/or gender identity

- Other acronyms: GLBTQ, LGBTQQQIA
LGBTQ-Specific and Risk Factors and Trauma Experiences

- Bullied/Harassed/Intimidated/Assaulted
- Verbal and physical abuse in homes and communities
- Religious and spiritual rejection
- Homelessness
- Suicide and unique mental health issues
- Substance use and abuse
- Sexual abuse and exploitation
Did you know...

- 80% of LGBT students experience harassment
- 71.1% of LGBT students feel unsafe at school
- LGBT students are 3X more likely to miss school because of safety concerns

(GLSEN, National School Climate Survey, 2011)
Did you know...

- 25-40% of homeless youth are LGBT (The National Gay and Lesbian Task Force, 2006)

- LGBT youth from a rejecting home are nearly 9X more likely to attempt suicide than their LGBT peers from supporting homes; for Latino/as increased to 11X (Ryan, 2009)

- LGB youth are 4 times more likely, and questioning youth are 3 times more likely, to attempt suicide as their straight peers. (2011, CDC, “Sexual Identity, Sex of Sexual Contacts, and Health-Risk Behaviors Among Students in Grades 9-12: Youth Risk Behavior Surveillance”)
Did you know...

• The odds of substance abuse are 190% higher for LGB youth than for their heterosexual peers, with bisexual youth and lesbians being at an even higher risk—340% and 400% respectively (Marshal MP, Friedman MS, et al, 2008)

• Compared with their heterosexual peers, youth reporting any minority sexual orientation report having initiated alcohol use at younger ages. (Corliss HL, Rosario M, et al, 2008)
What LGBTQ Youth are Saying...

“Society looks down on us so much, at times I feel dehumanized”
– Jayy 16 y/o bisexual girl from Los Angeles, CA

“I always have these nightmares about being some kind of animal, you know, like an animal you take to slaughter. I tend to have nightmares about the type of animal that you take to slaughter, like a cow or a pig. And I dream about running and having people tie me down and grab my legs and stuff. In any case, I always feel like people are treating me a lot like an animal because they look at me for the body and the meat.”

– 17 y/o transgender person from New Mexico

State Hate Crime Laws

All but five states (Arkansas, Georgia, Indiana, South Carolina and Wyoming) have laws addressing the scourge of hate crimes, but there is variation in the list of protected classes. The laws that address hate or bias crimes against LGBT people are as follows.

* Laws lacking LGBT inclusion: States that have a law that addresses hate or bias crimes based, but do not address sexual orientation or gender identity (14 states): Alabama, Alaska, Idaho, Mississippi, Montana, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Utah (no categories listed), Virginia and West Virginia.

 Data Collection Only: Michigan (sexual orientation), Rhode Island (gender identity).

Responding to Anti-LGBTQ Language

• How would you respond if a client says to you, “That’s So Gay?”
• How would you respond to slurs such as “faggot,” “dyke,” or “tranny?”
• How would you respond to “No homo?”
Possible Responses

• What do you mean by that?
• Do you say that as a compliment?
• How do you think a gay person might feel?
• Do you know what “gay” means?
• Do you know it’s hurtful?

Employment Laws and Policies

STATEWIDE EMPLOYMENT LAWS AND POLICIES

Updated June 4, 2013

States that prohibit discrimination based on sexual orientation and gender identity (19 states and D.C.):

- State courts, commissions, agencies, or other general authority have interpreted existing law to include some protection against discrimination against transgender individuals in Florida and New York.
- The Federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission is now accepting complaints of gender identity discrimination in employment based on Title VII’s prohibition against sex discrimination.

States that prohibit discrimination based on sexual orientation only (9 states):

Laws and Policies Covering Public Employees Only:
The laws referenced above apply to public and private employers (with some limitations) in the respective states. Additionally, there are 6 states () that have an executive order, administrative order, or personnel regulation prohibiting discrimination against public employees based on the protected characteristic of sexual orientation and gender identity, and 3 states () prohibit discrimination against public employees based on same-sex orientation only. In 23 states, the District of Columbia, and 1 state, employees are provided with domestic partner benefits. In 2 states (), state employees are provided with benefits based on marriage, and same-sex spouses are eligible for benefits.

There is hope...

- In 2011, there was a significant decrease in harassment and assault based on sexual orientation compared to findings released from previous years (GLSEN, 2011)

- Harassment and assault on the basis of sexual orientation and gender expression continue to be a major issue, despite this heartening statistic
Healing the Healers

c’mon, inner peace.
I don’t have all day.
Trauma Informed Care is moving from “What’s wrong with you?” to “What was your experience?”
