Key Initiative Components

• Cultural Competency Training Program
• Greater Columbus LGBTQ Health Coalition
• Health Promotion and Prevention
Cultural Competency Training Program

Cultural competency training for healthcare professionals to create more safe places for gender and sexually diverse clients to get healthcare. The training is free and can be offered with Continuing Education Credits for Nurses and Social Workers.
The Genderbread Person

Gender Identity
- Woman
- Genderqueer
- Man

Gender identity is how you, in your head, think about yourself. It’s the chemistry that composes you (e.g., hormonal levels) and how you interpret what that means.

Gender Expression
- Feminine
- Androgynous
- Masculine

Gender expression is how you demonstrate your gender (based on traditional gender roles) through the ways you act, dress, behave, and interact.

Biological Sex
- Female
- Intersex
- Male

Biological sex refers to the objectively measurable organs, hormones, and chromosomes. Female = vagina, ovaries, XX chromosomes; male = penis, testes, XY chromosomes; intersex = a combination of the two.

Sexual Orientation
- Heterosexual
- Bisexual
- Homosexual

Sexual orientation is who you are physically, spiritually, and emotionally attracted to, based on their sex/gender in relation to your own.
Greater Columbus LGBTQ Health Coalition

MISSION:
A community-based initiative made up of health care providers, caregivers, community leaders, organizations and allies, with the goal of improving the health and safety of gender and sexually diverse communities in Columbus. This includes things like advocacy for gender and sexually diverse people and improving their wellness resources.
Health Promotion and Prevention

The LGBTQ Health Initiative collaborates with local community partners to promote healthy lifestyle choices with programs geared toward LGBTQ communities.

- Ohio Youth Safety Summit
- Violence in Transgender Communities Summit
- Community Conversations
Why an LGBTQ Health Initiative?

- LGBTQ people face a vast range of significant health disparities worse health than other groups.
- While some are a result of behavior, most are linked to social and institutional inequities resulting from homophobia and discrimination.
Health Disparities Experienced by LGBTQ Community

- Suicide
- Homelessness
- Breast and Cervical Cancer
- HIV
- Obesity
- Alcoholism, tobacco use
- Mental Health challenges
- Increased numbers of all for trans community

Impact of Providing Culturally Competent Care

• Closing health disparities.
• Achieving health equity.
• Improving health outcomes.
• Increasing “community trust” of health care establishments.
• Decrease in ability of stigma to function as a barrier to care.
In Columbus, we have an estimated 68,300 LGBTQ residents.

And this group experiences a disproportionate amount of health and wellness issues. For example...

- Lesbians are less likely to seek preventive care for cancer.
- LGBTQ youth are 40-60% of the homeless youth population.
- Gay men still account for 60% of new HIV Infections.
- Violence against LGBTQ people has a disproportionate impact on transgendered women: 53% of anti-LGBTQ homicides were committed against transgendered women.

Toledo Transgender Support Group
Lack of Protections = Higher Risks

- Anti-bullying policies not enumerated
- Employment, Housing and Public Accommodations
- Lack of Relationship Recognition
- Lack of Benefits
- Illegal to change gender marker on Birth Certificate
These Injustices Can Result in LGBT Persons Being at Risk

- Higher incident of verbal and physical assault
- At-Risk for Bullying and Harassment
- Educational problems and increased dropout rate
- Higher rate of homelessness
- Higher rate of suicide attempts and completions
- Higher rate of drug and alcohol abuse
- Increased risk of untreated serious physical and mental illnesses
Mental Health

- Being Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, or Transgender is not a mental illness.
- However, just like every other group, some LGBT people do experience mental illness.
- LGBT people may also face unique risks to their mental health and well being:
Potential Barriers to Treatment

- LGBT People may fear discrimination, harassment, or poor service from providers.
- LGBT People may not tell you all the complications in their lives as they try to hide their sexual orientation or gender identity from a provider.
- Providers may not have all the information needed to provide full service – places the provider at a disadvantage.
- If providers react negatively, the LGBT person may retreat. The LGBT person may not receive the services they need – or they may never try to access those services in the first place.
- Providers may lack training or worse may impose their own ideological belief on the LGBT person.
Equal Access to Competent Treatment

- Providers must communicate acceptance and be nonjudgmental
- Treatment must be culturally relevant
- Providers must be trained to address the diverse, individual needs of LGBT clients
- Organizations must be inclusive from start to finish
- Providers must address any harassment and intolerance of other clients in the treatment program
Empowerment Model: Affirming Treatment Interventions

Instead of assessing lesbian, gay, bisexual or transgender persons through a lens of disorder and dysfunction, providers need to focus on what it means to be a healthy, functioning lesbian, gay or bisexual person in a society with hate and discrimination.

- Affirming philosophical and theoretical position that complement any therapeutic approach
- Non-pathologizing
- Uses accurate understanding of sexual orientation, gender expression and gender identity issues to guide interventions
- Respectful of numerous ways to express sexual orientation, gender expression and gender identity and rejects the idea that heterosexual norms are the standard by which all people should be judged
- Respectful of all individuals
