Study 2 Design

Interrupted Time Series Panel Design

- Panels (samples) from index years are examined for differences in patient characteristics.

- Differences in patient characteristics are examined for differences in service duration across time spans.