

OhioMHAS and Center for Innovative Practices Adolescents with Co-Occurring Needs Spring Training Series 2021

OhioMHAS and the Center for Innovative Practices at Case Western Reserve University are pleased to be able to revisit 5 topics centered around providing care to youth with co-occurring mental health and substance use needs. This series will repeat the same popular topics from the Fall series, though not recorded replays. Each training will be presented live virtually (Zoom), will be at no cost and provide continuing education credits for ALL sessions, from the Ohio Counselor, RN, Social Worker and Marriage and Family Therapist Board in addition to continuing education credits through the Ohio Chemical Dependency Professionals Board.

Note: The confirmation e-mail reflects when the room opens at 8:30a but the training and CEU credit does not start until 9:00a
