Housing and Homelessness Trauma-Informed Care Resources

Shelter from the Storm: Trauma-Informed Care in Homelessness Services Settings; Elizabeth K. Hopper, Ellen L. Bassuk, and Jeffrey Olivet; The Open Health Services and Policy Journal, 2010, 3, 80-100

The National Center on Family Homelessness; www.familyhomelessness.org

Homelessness Resource Center: https://www.samhsa.gov/homelessness-housing

Trauma-Informed Care for Women Veterans Experiencing Homelessness: A Guide for Service Providers: Insight into the experiences and needs of women Veterans, an organizational self-assessment with guidelines for providing trauma-informed care to women Veterans, and resources for service providers. www.familyhomelessness.org

The National Coalition for the Homeless recently hosted a Congressional briefing on Trauma Informed Care (TIC) and homeless families. Trauma Informed Care is an important topic that is rapidly gaining notability due to its capacity to teach practitioners how to engage with individuals who have experienced trauma without the use of damaging punitive or paternalistic attitudes http://nationalhomeless.org/how-trauma-informed-care-is-helping-homeless-families/

The collaboration between the two Centers has allowed for the review of current efforts that address trauma among homeless Veterans, while simultaneously identifying needs for increasing education and support for VA homeless program staff, and all providers who serve homeless Veterans https://www.va.gov/homeless/nchav/models/NCPTSD.asp  https://www.va.gov/homeless/nchav/education/trauma-informed-care.asp

Trauma-Informed Care and Why It Matters: How we’re falling short in treating trauma victims and what we can do to fix it. Psychology Today