Sustaining the SPF with Vision, Value, & Strategy

Session Objectives

- Gain a conceptual understanding of the Public Value model for strategic management within the context of the work done by coalitions engaged in the SPF SIG process
- Apply the Public Value model to the concept of sustainability planning

Strategic Leaders Create Public Value

“The aim of managerial work in the public sector is to create public value just as the aim of managerial work in the private sector is to create private value.”

(Mark H. Moore, Creating Public Value, 1995)

Public Value of Your Work

“Ultimately, it is all about personal responsibility and how to support the person to become their own best coach for health management. The individual is the only one with themselves 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. That is why it is imperative that we invest in a culture of health as an individual, as a family, as an employer, as a community, as a state and as a nation.”

(Ronald Loepke, The Value of Health and the Power of Prevention, 2008)
Challenges All Public Leaders Face

- Measuring outcomes
- Raising public awareness of issues
- Competition for resources
- Staffing considerations
- Demands from overseers
- Collaboration with other organizations
- Managing complex networks

A Public Value Model for Public Managers—The Strategic Triangle

Need to touch all the bases when we develop and implement strategy

Authorizing Environment
Legitimacy and Support

Task Environment
Operational Capacity

Value Mission Goals

Making Strategy
“The Idea of a Strategic Triangle”

Seek opportunities to increase value your organization creates
Strategy must provide substantive value to overseers, clients and beneficiaries
Strategic Triangle “Idea”

Authorizing Environment

Obtain and maintain resources and authority to create public value
Strategy must be legitimate and politically sustainable

Strategic Triangle “Idea”

Operational Capacity

Produce value using internal and external assets (task environment)
Strategy must be operationally and administratively feasible

The Strategic Triangle Public Value Framework

Authorizing Environment

Shapes strategic practices of managers

Operational Capacity  →  Public Value
Making Strategy to Mirror Realities of Public Sector Environment

Strategic Components:
1. Public Value Strategy - strategy must provide substantive value to overseers, clients and beneficiaries
2. Political Strategy - it must be legitimate and politically sustainable
3. Operational Capacity Strategy - it must be operationally and administratively feasible

Strategic Triangle

- Have to pay attention to all three areas at the same time
- What you do in one area has to fit with the others

Using the Strategic Triangle to Promote Sustainability

- Diagnosis of existing situation in terms of value produced, stands in authorizing environment and existing capacity
- Helps structure thinking about what value to produce and how authorizing environment and capacity allow us to go forward
Making a Public Value Strategy

- What value is being produced?
  - Identify and clearly articulate what is being delivered to whom?
- What does the community know and value about your work?
  - Research issues and stakeholders in the authorizing environment.
- What is the co-production process?
  - Who else can help you create the public value?

"Leaders establish the vision for the future and set the strategy for getting there; they cause change. They motivate and inspire others to go in the right direction."

John Kotter
